Fighting for the Central Valley

Born and raised in the Valley, Esmeralda Soria graduated from local schools, worked her way through college and law school, and came back home to fight for families and residents in the Central Valley.

As an educator, advocate, and city councilmember, she:

- ✓ Protected Valley water supplies for families, small businesses, farmers, and ranchers
- ✓ Secured millions in emergency funding for safe drinking water in disadvantaged communities
- ✓ Expanded college access and scholarships for local students
- ✓ Led efforts to create home ownership opportunities and create good-paying jobs

In the Assembly, Esmeralda will bring needed leadership to fight for Central Valley families, schools, and neighborhoods in Sacramento, taking on special interests to deliver for our communities, making sure California's economic recovery doesn't leave us behind.
